God Made Me This Way: Down, Hayley, Fennell, Clare ...

Common to Chely Wright, Ray Boltz, and Christian gay advocates is the belief that our desires are fundamental to our essence, part of our God-wiring. Since that is the way God created us, they reason, satisfying our desires is not only not sinful, but sanctified. The truth is that while some desires come from God—the desire for transcendence, for example—others come from an unsettled combination of nature and nurture. Orthodox Christianity holds that creation, as God made it, was ...

God Made You This Way—Not! - Crisis Magazine

It’s in the nature of us to question our Creator. Why did you make me like this, and not like him or him? Why did you make him like that, and not like me? Why do some believe the good news, and others reject it? In this lab, John Piper explores the relationship between the Potter and his clay.

God made me - Genesis 2 - Trueway Kids

"If God takes the time to shape us from the dust, is it right to point a finger at Him and ask, "Why have You made me this way?". Doesn't the potter have the right to shape the clay in any way he chooses? Can't he make one lump into an elegant vase, and another into a common jug? Absolutely." - Romans 9:20-21. God is a creator and we are His creation. What makes us different from every other creation however is that we are made in God's image.
