John Browns Body

"John Brown's Body" is a United States marching song about the abolitionist John Brown. The song was popular in the Union during the American Civil War. The tune arose out of the folk hymn tradition of the American camp meeting movement of the late 18th and early 19th century. According to an 1890 account, the original John Brown lyrics were a collective effort by a group of Union soldiers who were referring both to the famous John Brown and also, humorously, to a Sergeant John Brown of their ow

Isolating John Brown from the political movement that sustained him conjures the idea of what C. Vann Woodward—no friend to the Old Man—once called “John Brown’s private war.” But of course there was nothing private about it. The origins, the premises, and the consequences of Brown’s struggle all lay firmly in the public realm.
